OVERVIEW

The Mini X-Type Banner Display is a compact promotional display designed for brand visibility at trade shows, retail environments, and promotional events. Its circular metal base provides stability and durability, while the X-type frame structure supports eye-catching graphics and messaging in a format that stands apart from conventional rectangular banner stands.

The unit is suited for both indoor and outdoor use, offering versatility across a range of event types. Setup and transport are straightforward, making it a practical option for organizations that require a portable, professional display solution.

The display carries a 1-year warranty.
